Creating links to ConfiForms Entry Viewer to fire an action

With ConfiForms you can have a very convenient way to see your stored records in a card/form view using ConfiForms Entry Viewer macro.

You can render it as link or as button.

But you can also provide a link to your users (page visitors) to the page where this macro is placed and have it to perform some actions for you.

Such as

- showing the record using modal dialog in read only mode
- showing the record using modal dialog in editable mode (if permissions allow)

This is done by adding the following request parameters to the URL of the page:

cf_id=ENTRY_ID&cf_mode=Editable

to show an EDITABLE view of ConfiForms entry

cf_id=ENTRY_ID&cf_mode=Readonly

to show an READONLY view of ConfiForms entry

ENTRY_ID is the id of the record you want to show in editable or readonly dialog
